June Newsletter

Phew! What a difference a bit of sunshine makes. We're all ready for our Summer Fair. I'm sure I'll see lots of you there tomorrow afternoon. In the meantime here are some updates from the best school in Langar!

Scatter Ball Festival.

A delightful bunch of year six children managed to fill a last minute tournament space at Radcliffe Junior School on Monday evening. I was amazed at the speed with which Langar rallied to the cause - well done parents, Mrs Nicholson and Mr Hall! The children set a great example for the school showcasing their teamwork skills when fielding and batting.

Father's Day Celebration Service

As is traditional here at Langar, the children of class one held their annual father's day service in the school hall. Dads, granddads, uncles and the whole family were invited to take part. Everyone enjoyed laughing at the children's best dad jokes, playing games and especially standing in a circle holding hands with other dads! It was a heartfelt and entertaining morning and something that shows Langar at its best.

Whole school photographs

On Friday the school photographer paid us a visit. As the sun shone, we lined up outside in our class groups. It was so great to see everyone with clean, smart shirts and carefully brushed hair that we decided to arrange a whole school photograph. This took some patience and a little bit of magic but we managed it! They will be available to purchase soon.

Loom bands for sale

Orla and Luna are two sisters who are in a charitable mood. They know how important Great Ormond Street Hospital is and would like to raise some money. They will be selling their bespoke loom bands and surplus toys on the school playground on Friday 5th July. Bring change!

As many of you will know, Langar C of E Primary School is part of the Aspire Multi-Academy Trust. Known as the 'Take Care Trust', it has high standards of academic achievement and school leadership. I was pleased to welcome Kate Watson, the CEO of Aspire, to our school on Wednesday morning. We met teachers and toured the school site, visiting classrooms and dropping in on lessons. Kate was impressed by the culture within school, she commented that Langar was a welcoming, happy and settled school. We reviewed the school's self evaluation framework together. It was wonderful to be able to share our fantastic academic results across school and to see that we share the same vision for the school's development.

Sports Day

Thank you for all your kind words about sports day. I've had grandparents queuing up to shake my hand and thank me for the afternoon's entertainment. I did little other than take the photographs! The staff spent hours rehearsing, coaching and organising the timetable. I must also thank the parents for their attendance and positivity. But I must especially thank the children. When they show our school values as loudly and proudly as they did on Friday, the world is a brighter place.

Congratulations and farewell Miss Marriott

If you have a child in class one, you have probably heard about Miss Marriott. She has brought energy, enthusiasm and a carnival spirit to the classroom. She has also recently completed her teacher training and secured a job for the following academic year. Today was her last day in the classroom with us and we wish her the best of luck for the future! Children everywhere need more teachers like Miss Marriott.

Rushcliffe Sports Partnership

We welcomed Chris Ballard to Langar School today. He leads the Rushcliffe Sports partnership which arranges a mixture of extra curricular sporting events for all subscribing schools. These include more inclusive festival events that allow all children to represent their school alongside more competitive fixtures and tournaments. We are pleased to announce that we will join the partnership for 2025/2025 with the aim of increasing participation in physical activity and competition across the school!
